

Definitive Healthcare Launches Early Adopter Program for New AI-Powered Healthcare Intelligence Platform

August 6, 2026

Unifying claims, provider, consumer, and expert data enables organizations to uncover growth opportunities and make faster, better-informed decisions

FRAMINGHAM, Mass., Aug. 06, 2026 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Definitive Healthcare (Nasdaq: DH), a provider of healthcare data and analytics, today announced an early adopter program for its new AI-powered platform, giving select organizations early access as the company works toward general availability later this year.

Definitive Healthcare is advancing its AI strategy by combining its trusted healthcare data assets with conversational AI to surface insights across providers, organizations, claims, affiliations, KOLs, and consumer datasets.

The platform will enable users to:

- Size market opportunities with confidence
- Optimize sales territories for maximum impact
- Identify and prioritize high-value prospects
- Surface the right decision makers faster
- Reduce patient leakage and strengthen networks

The new platform brings together healthcare intelligence that is uniquely available in a single solution, enabling organizations to ask complex questions, understand relationships throughout the healthcare ecosystem, identify meaningful opportunities, and make faster, more informed strategic, commercial, and product development decisions.

"Definitive Healthcare has been using AI, machine learning, and advanced analytics to create proprietary healthcare intelligence for years," said Srinivas Attipalli, Head of AI at Definitive Healthcare. "This platform is the next step in that journey, giving customers a new way to explore the intersections of markets, providers, organizations, patients, and the people who influence healthcare decisions."

Select Definitive Healthcare customers, spanning health systems, life sciences organizations, and other industries selling into healthcare, are being invited to participate in the early adopter program beginning in August 2026. Feedback from early adopters will help shape the final product experience ahead of a planned general availability release in late 2026. "The organizations that lead in healthcare are the ones that can identify opportunities early and act with confidence," said Tina Hannagan, Chief Commercial Officer at Definitive Healthcare. "By combining Definitive Healthcare's trusted healthcare intelligence with AI, we're helping customers move from data to decisions faster than ever before."
